PLEASE CIRCLE THE CORRECT ANSWER

1. T F We can pick up our Bibles and read them in any place, and at any time without praying or preparing ourselves spiritually before hand and still get the full benefit and revelation from such reading.

2. T F It is good discipline and practice to spend time each day confessing God's Word over your life.

3. T F The serious Bible student can get by by just using his Bible, without making use of any study aids such as concordances available to us today.

4. T F If we pray, ask and confess that the Holy Spirit helps us and teaches us as we study the Bible, then we will get far more out of each study time.

5. T F Once we have studied the Bible it is imperative that we spend time meditating on certain selected verses, so that our spirit man can feed on God's Word.

6. T F It is important to write down revelation knowledge in the margin of our Bible or S.T. notebook because a blunt pencil is better than a sharp mind.

7. T F To study the Bible correctly and properly is hard work.

8. T F If I miss a day's Bible study I might as well give up completely because I just have not got what it takes.
